Junior Gunmen Lose Weapons

Two early teen age boys living in the neighborhood of Carson street and Fern avenue recently contributed their air rifles to the police department this week after a neighbor complained they were 'shooting up' his house.

Reflections

By J. Hugh Sherley, Jr.

Abe Lincoln Said:

"Important Principles may be flexible." This was uttered during his last public address, Washington, April 11th, 1865.

Think of the implications of these words! Labor and Management can be adamant and both suffer; man and his wife can be contentious and be unhappy; Nations can be hard-boiled and start shooting; neighbors can be curt and build spite fences. The whole fabric of our behavior can use those words as word and warp of our social, economic and National existence.

A man whose mind could conceive such a jewel is one who can and will live in the mind of his compatriots forever. I have not been able to find, in any part of Lincoln's recorded utterances one sentiment that could be construed as an unequivocal order. His words were couched in kindness, appealing to the dignity of mankind. What a wonderful heritage he left to us!

CARNIVAL SUCCESS CLUBWOMEN'S GOAL

Torrance Woman's Club members and their guests were enthusiastic about their trip yesterday to Los Angeles, where they toured a large bakery and remained for luncheon. The affair was arranged by Mrs. J. K. Burchfield as a ways and means project for the club.

Next Wednesday will be a busy club day with the scheduled pot luck luncheon at noon and the Junior-Senior party at 8 p.m. in the clubhouse. The date will mark the eighth anniversary of the Junior Club's inception and will be celebrated with a novelty program.

With the annual carnival just a month away, members are busy with plans for their various projects. Clubwomen are asked for donations for Mrs. Miles' book stall, for Mrs. Olsen's white elephant booth, for the linen chest and many other money-making ventures to assure a complete success of the annual event.

Police Search For Alleged Check Artist

Torrance police were searching this week for Gill R. Phifer, who once worked for the Ready Mix Concrete Company of Inglewood.

Answering a call from Leo Kaiman, operator of the State Surplus Store at 2081 Torrance boulevard, that a suspicious appearing man had just given him a check for $64.35 naming the concrete company as payor, police traced Phifer to 1611 West 261st street. There Phifer's wife told police her estranged husband had been cashing forged checks on the concrete company since he quit working for the company in January.

CARS COLLIDE

Both drivers escaped injuries when cars driven by Joe McGee, 43, of 1244 Ennis street, and Melvin D. Redington, 21, of 1449 West 214th street, collided at Arlington avenue and Plaza del Amo Tuesday night.

Herald to Carry Tax-Deeded Sale Advertisements

The Torrance Herald is one of 45 newspapers in the county which have been selected by H. L. Byram, County Tax Collector, to carry advertisements of the forthcoming county-wide sale, beginning Feb. 27, of tax-deeded properties in which approximately 225 parcels will be sold at public auction.

The county's policy of opening all bids with a minimum price of $10 will be continued at this sale, the 59th of the series. The sale will be held on the third floor of the Hall of Justice and will be conducted by Deputy Frank B. Murphy of Alhambra.

More than 18,000 separate parcels have been sold by the tax collector at public auctions held during the past five years. Byram said these parcels have been restored to the tax rolls and now are producing tax revenue.
